Dear President Zuma,

This letter is a request for you and your country to put an end to rhino poaching. While ending the practice may seem like a daunting task that requires extensive resources of manpower and oversight, I believe that the effort is worth it for the following reasons:

Rhinos, like all creatures, deserve to be treated humanely.

Poaching is a crime, and poachers should be held responsible for their actions.

Rhinos are endangered and require protection to exist for future generations.

Please take active steps to enforce your laws and protect these animals.

Sincerely,

(via email)
