

The Albino Rhino by Lizzy Crump

Ten years ago there was a rhino, who's body and horn were all albino.

Its feet were wide and tough.

And its life was pretty rough!

It lived in dark, beach caves.

Seaweed was what it craved!

But hunters soon learned about these creatures,
and were fascinated by one feature.

Its tail was long, and black as night.

Against its white body, it was quite a sight!

The hair on the end was gold "n" fine.

On the market, it fetched a high $99!

So it soon came extinct,

This is the end of my tale

The tale of the Albino Rhino and its glorious tail!
